

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Georgia Comptroller - General

OF THE

STATE OF GEORGIA.

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1897.

ATLANTA, GA.:
GEO. W. HARRISON, STATE PRINTER,
FRANKLIN PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY.
1897.

REPORT.

COMPTROLLER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, GA., October 1, 1897.

To His Excellency, W. Y. Atkinson, Governor:

Sir:—In compliance with law, I have the honor to submit herewith the annual report of this department for the year ending September 30th, 1897, exhibiting by tabulated statements the sources from which the revenue of the State is derived, and the receipts and disbursements of same from the first of October, 1896, to the 30th of September, 1897, both inclusive, and also such statistical and other information as it is made my duty by law to submit for your consideration. The tenth annual report of the Insurance Department of this office will be found in part second of this report, and I desire to call your attention to the recommendations of amendments to our insurance laws which experience in this department has suggested, and hope they will meet your approval and that the needed legislation may be had. Since the date of my last report, October 1st, 1896, the State Treasurer has received and duly certified to this office, and my receipts properly issued for the sum of $2,929,388.89, which amount has been charged to him on the books of this department.

Executive warrants or drafts drawn on the Treasurer, under the general appropriation acts of 1896 and 1897, and the several special appropriation acts, amounting to $2,974,065.77, have been audited and approved by me in accordance with law, and paid by him for the same period, and his account credited therewith.

The condition of treasury, therefore, on October 1st, 1896, was as follows:

Balance in Treasury October 1, 1896	$	466,923	08
Receipts from all sources from October 1, 1896, to September 30, 1897.....		2,929,388	89
Total amount to be accounted for	$	3,396,311	97
Executive warrants paid by Treasurer	$	2,906,380	87
Warrants Speaker House and President Senate....		67,684	90
Making total payments by Treasurer.....	$	2,974,065	77
Balance in Treasury October 1, 1897.....	$	422,246	20

Thinking that a statement showing the assessed value of the property of the State for taxation for each year beginning with the year 1879, giving valuation of the general property and the property of railroads separately, and the tax levy for each of said years, would be interesting, I have tabulated such information, which will be found below.

It will be observed from this statement that, notwithstanding the continued large increase in the taxable property of the State from year to year, the rate of taxation has also increased correspondingly, thus largely increasing the burden of the people.

The property of railroads which have charter exemptions from ad valorem taxation but are taxed upon their net incomes is not included in the value of railroad property in the above table. This exempted property is estimated to be worth at least $18,000,000, which would make the aggregate value of this property in round figures $60,000,000. It will be seen from the foregoing table that up to the year 1893 the increase in the value of the property has been quite large each year, but since that time our valuations have remained about the same notwithstanding the general financial depression which has prevailed in all sections of our country. It will be observed that the general property of the State has increased since 1879 nearly one hundred per cent. and the railroad property about four hundred and fifty per cent., which is indeed a marvelous development and growth for so short a period and should be a source of great gratification to all Georgians. While Georgia's wealth has been increasing, I regret that our expenditures have been such as to require a constantly increasing tax rate, until we have reached this year the highest rate levied for thirty years, and that too in spite of the fact that the taxable property has doubled in value during this period, thus showing that without this large increase in the value of our property the State rate would be over one per cent.

These figures speak for themselves, and doubtless will receive the careful consideration of the General Assembly at the approaching session.

It is gratifying and highly encouraging to note the fact that notwithstanding there is a small decrease in the assessed value of property of the State this year over 1896, this decrease is in the value of city and railroad property and not in country property, this latter showing quite a nice increase.

To show in detail to what extent many of the chief and more important classes of our property has increased in value, I have prepared the following statement:

From a careful study of the tabulated statements showing the value of the different items or classes of property returned in the several counties of this State, it will be observed that there is a great want of equality in our system of tax assessments which can only be remedied by some wise and just equalization or assessment law. No system of assessment should be continued which puts the conscientious and honest taxpayer of this State in a condition where he must bear more than his proportion of the burden of taxation, and permits the less conscientious taxpayer to escape his just and fair proportion of the taxes of the State. Most of the other States provide for assessments under regulations similar to the system employed by our cities and towns, and their laws seem to meet the approval of the people and certainly correct the evils of voluntary tax returns by the individual taxpayer. The law of 1890, which sought to equalize taxes, was only in operation for one year and would have added much to our revenue and equally distributed the burdens of taxation had it not been repealed. The discrepancies in the land acreage of the State returned for taxation has excited special criticism, but it is no less strange that a farmer will return less acreage of land than he owns, than that a merchant will return less merchandise than he held on the date fixed for the return of property for taxation, or that a factory president will return his property below its value. These are some of the evils which must be corrected only through wise and simple assessment laws. Eight years' experience in the execution of the acts of 1889 and 1890, subjecting railroad property in this State to county and municipal taxation, has demonstrated the necessity for slight amendments of the law. I would suggest that these acts be amended so as to require all railroads to pay their county and municipal taxes to the Comptroller-General at the same time they pay their State taxes to that officer, and that he be required to receipt for and remit said taxes to the treasurers of the counties and municipalities, taking their receipts for same and keep them on file in his office.

This system will enable this office to keep a complete and correct record of these taxes and facilitate prompt collections of them. Under the present law the Comptroller-General is required to furnish county and city tax-collectors with statements of the amounts due them by railroads owning property in their counties and cities, and if said taxes are not paid on the 20th of December, said tax-collectors are required to notify the Comptroller-General, whose duty it is to issue executions for said unpaid taxes and place them in the hands of an officer for collection. These executions are frequently paid and no notice of the fact ever given to this office of said payment, and the execution docket kept in my office will show no settlement of said taxes, thus leaving the record incomplete and creating confusion.

I respectfully suggest that the law fixing the first of April of each year as the date on which tax-receivers shall begin to receive taxes be amended so as to require them to begin work after the first day of January and to close their books on the first day of May of each year. This will enable the receivers to complete their tax books and file them in this office by the first of June, and will reach much personal property which is held in this State on that date, but which disappears altogether by the first of April, thus losing a large revenue each year to the State. Tax-receivers complain every year that justices of the peace will not furnish them with lists of the taxpayers, which prevent them from making correct schedules of the defaulters in their counties. I would suggest that if some compensation is provided for this work the justices would comply with the law.

I am informed that many tax-collectors make no record on their digests of the date of the payment of taxes by the individual taxpayers. I would therefore suggest that a law be passed requiring such record to be made, giving date of payment of each person's tax, so that the stub of the receipt and the entry on the digest will check against each other.

Respectfully,

WM. A. WRIGHT,
Comptroller-General.
